Laurent Wauquiez spoke shortly after 8 pm, welcoming a "clear victory". "It is a very strong moment, he assured, it is the victory of a clear course". "This evening, the extremes have receded sharply in our region, because we are leaving them no ground to prosper," continued Laurent Wauquiez, thanking his voters and highlighting his "loyalty to strong values". The young Laurent Wauquiez, being only 46 years old, is all the same an old wolf of politics, since his beginnings in politics in 1997, with Jaques Barrot Minister of Social Affairs. He is brilliant and learns quickly, while progressing for decades in the Republican party of the French right that he chaired from 2017 to 2019 ... He was also chosen as Secretary of State for Employment in March 2008, after having been the government spokesperson for a year His political career and his personal and academic and intellectual background (Normalien, agrégé d'histoire, graduate of the Institut d'études politiques de Paris, DEA in public law and Major of the promotion, of the National School of Administration) make him a formidable candidate of the Right, at regional and national level. Laurent Wauquiez is therefore a heavyweight, with a very presidential profile for the next presidential elections of 2022.

POLITICAL PATH AND RAPID RISE OF THE BRILLIANT LAURENT WAUQUIEZ-----

Laurent Wauquiez is graduated of Sciences Po and a major at ENA, he began his career in 1997 with Jacques Barrot, then Minister of Social Affairs. In 2001, he was appointed auditor at the Council of State and master of petitions in 2004.

The same year, at age 29, he became a UMP deputy for the 1st district of Haute-Loire, where he was re-elected in 2012. He was chosen as Secretary of State for Employment in March 2008, after serving as government spokesperson for a year. In March 2008, he was also elected mayor of Puy-en-Velay, a term he held until 2016. The French regional and departmental elections (13 regions, and 101 departments) held last Sunday 30 June, showed the same disinterest from the voters who did not dare going to choose their presidents of regions, with a very low rate of 58% abstention rate. This has made a difference, and led the LREM (French Presidential Majority) and RN (Far Right « National Rally » Party, chaired by Marine Le Pen) to getting no regions for neither party

THE AUVERGNE RHONE ALPES REGION AIMS TO RECRUIT 10% OF DISABLED PEOPLE BY THE H + APPROACH-----

The Region wishes in particular to develop the H + approach (« H » as for meaning Handicap) and extend it to several themes. This is a flexible approach based on adherence to a charter and an assessment by users with disabilities. The main axes for integrating disability into all regional policies are as follows:-----

Develop the H + approach for all training organizations and CFAs in Auvergne-Rhône-Alpes and extend it to other delegations, to integrate disability into each of the regional policies;-----

Target 10% of disabled workers in the regional administration. Even if the Region is already among the most exemplary communities in this area, it wishes to go even further and aim for a rate of 10% of disabled workers in its workforce by 2021;

Strengthen accessibility in transport and in high schools, in particular thanks to a massive investment of € 222 million over the period 2016-2024 to guarantee accessibility to all of its real estate assets. Source: Region Auvergne Rhone Alpes
