WORLD SKILLS IS AN INTERNATIONAL SKILLS OLYMPIAD COMPETITION

WORLD SKILLS, is a true showcase of professions, the Professions Olympics - “Worldskills” in their international dimension - allow young people from all over the world to measure their know-how and prove all their professional talent. A high-level competition known and recognized worldwide, this event is similar to the “Olympic Games” for professions. For several days, passionate candidates offer a show of excellence in 8 sectors: food, automobile, public works building, industry, new technologies/Information and Communication Technologies, services and maintenance, plants.

In close collaboration with the WorldSkills France association and the various French regions, Abilympics France is committed to supporting as many people with disabilities as possible and regardless of age in this skills competition intended for all enthusiasts. Objective Inclusion!

Olympiads, in a international in scope, begins with regional selections (every 2 years) then national. Each candidate represents their region and their profession.

Abilympics candidates, young people under 23, can freely register for these competitions on the Worldskills France platform <https://www.worldskills-france.org/la-competition>.

In partnership with WorldSkills France, Abilympics France will organize disability-related compensation where applicable (workstation adaptation, interpreting, etc.).

Some regions also open their competitions to competitors with disabilities, with no age limit. In this specific case, registration is handled directly by Abilympics France which will then liaise with each region.

More than a hundred Abilympics candidates took part in the WorldSkills adventure. To find out more about the journeys of some of these talents, discover their portrait here: <https://abilympics-france.fr/participants/>
